

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

* It is difficult to make a clear and comprehensive list of the governors of Virginia, for the reason that the person bearing the title of governor often resided in England, while the real official head, residing in Virginia, was a deputy. The history of Virginia executives divides itself into nine heads, including the period of attempted colonization in the time of Elizabeth, though the real history of Virginia begins with the London Company, whose rule lasted for eighteen years, under two presidents or treasurers—Sir Thomas Smith and Sir Edwin Sandys—neither of whom visited the colony. Therefore, the early govern-ment of Virginia was intended to be a colonial council, with a president, often spoken of as governor. The first man ever to have the title of "governor" was Lord Delaware, appointed by the London Company, in 1609, to hold office for life. He held this position for nine years, dying 1618. He resided in Virginia only nine months, and for the balance of the nine years was represented by a deputy. In 1624, the London Company lost its charter, and Virginia then passed into the hands of the King, who, from time to time, appointed royal governors. These governors often resided in England, and were represented

In Virginia by deputies. Virginia still retained a resident council, and if, for any reason, the governor or deputy governor was absent from the colony, the president of the council was the acting governor. In 1652, Virginia passed under the Commonwealth (Cromwell), and the General Assembly, by its own authority, elected four governors. From 1660 to 1776 Virginia was again under the rule of the King, who appointed the governors. During this period there were only ten governors of Virginia, but a great number of deputies. Of these governors, Sir William Berkeley, Sir Herbert Jeffries, Lord Culpeper and Sir Edmund Andros were residents of Virginia the greater portion of their terms. But the Earl of Orkney, the Earl of Albemarle, the Earl of Loudoun and Sir Jeffrey Amherst, governors from 1697 to 1763, never came to Virginia, and were represented by deputies. The last two governors to be appointed by the King, Lord Botetourt and Lord Dunmore, resided in Virginia during their term of office.

Proclamations by the Governor

Lafayette Day.

Whereas, America, grateful for the services rendered by France under the leadership of Marquis de Lafayette in our war for independence, is sending millions of our sons across the seas to fight side by side with the gallant sons of France for the preservation of the institutions of democracy and the destruction of German autocracy; and

Whereas, The organization, training, equipment and maintenance of our armies and navy, and the maintenance of our allies, requires the expenditure of billions of dollars that the world may be saved from the curse and destructiveness of German military domination; and

Whereas, The sixth of September is the anniversary of the birth of Lafayette, the champion of American liberty and of the institutions of democracy, and whose name is beloved by all Virginia; now

Therefore, I, Westmoreland Davis, Governor of Virginia, do call upon all the people of Virginia, as a special tribute to France, to observe the sixth day of September, 1918, as "Lafayette Day" by purchasing, to the full extent of our individual means, War Savings Stamps.

Given under my hand, and under the Lesser Seal of the Commonwealth, at Richmond, this thirteenth day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and in the one hundred and forty-third year of the Commonwealth.

WESTMORELAND DAVIS,

Governor.

By the Governor:

B. O. JAMES,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Fourth Liberty Loan.

Whereas, That victory which promises an enduring peace now appears within the grasp of our magnificent armies that are sweeping before them the foes of liberty; and

Whereas, To us there comes at this epochal period the duty to sustain our men in the field and to give to them alike the assurance of our whole-hearted support and the material aid without which no soldiers, however valorous, may discharge their military functions;

Therefore, I, Westmoreland Davis, Governor of Virginia, do call upon the people of the Commonwealth to come to the support of the United States and their armies, and to purchase to the limit of their means the Liberty Bonds now being offered, thereby contributing all they can toward bringing this war to a successful and speedy conclusion.

Given under my hand, and under the Lessel Seal of the Commonwealth, at Richmond, this fifteenth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and in the one hundred and forty-third year of the Commonwealth.

WESTMORELAND DAVIS,

Governor.

By the Governor:

B. O. JAMES,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Daily Liberty Prayers.

Whereas, There are those in foreign lands fighting and dying that human liberty may remain the heritage of the world and those at home loyally serving and sacrificing that those abroad may have the strength and courage to perform their monumental task, the defeat of militarism and autocracy that leads to unjust and iniquitous wars; and,

Whereas, In such times of stress and general need the human heart instinctively turns toward the Almighty God beseeching His aid for those who are partakers in the struggle, seeking for light whereby to comprehend the issues that are involved and to see the path of proper duty, praying for a righteous peace that will end the sacrificing and the sorrow, and hoping for the coming of a time of universal brotherhood under the Great Father; now, -

Therefore, I, Westmoreland, Davis, the Governor of Virginia, do proclaim each day at noon a session of prayer, some moments to be spent invoking God's favor on our cause, His help for our fighting and our working forces, His comfort for those of us who grieve for loved ones sacrificed in our holy effort; and I request that church and school bells be rung and factory whistles blown at the noon hour to usher in this period, and that men and women and children stop awhile from their usual occupations and singly or in groups commune with their Maker, praying for those objects which are herein set forth.

Given under my hand, and under the Lesser Seal of the Commonwealth, at Richmond, this twenty-ninth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen and in the one hundred and forty-third year of the Commonwealth.

WESTMORELAND DAVIS,

Governor.

By the Governor:

B. O. JAMES,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

United War Work Campaign.

In recognition of the essential importance of the United War Work Campaign in its vital relationship to the welfare and comfort and protection of the men and women in the service of the country; and

Consistent with the request of the President of the United States, that the seven organizations with similar aims and purposes unite under one leadership in the special campaign; and

In recognition of the obligation which we are under to our men and women in the service whose bravery and self sacrifice is not surpassed in history, and recognizing that through these seven agencies comprising the United War Work Campaign we have the only opportunity granted us to render this special service;

Therefore, I, Westmoreland Davis, Governor of Virginia, do issue this proclamation:

That on Saturday and Sunday, November 9th and 10th, 1918, the churches devote a service to the interests of this campaign and that during the date of the campaign, November 11th to 18th, the people generally give of their time, strength and means toward making this campaign highly successful, realizing that in its success is involved the welfare and happiness of millions of our men and women now in the services of the country, and the proper care of our troops during the period of demobilization and reconstruction should the war have an early ending.

Given under my hand, and under the Lesser Seal of the Commonwealth, at Richmond, this sixth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and in the one hundred and forty-third year of the Commonwealth.

League to Enforce Peace, Virginia Convention.

Whereas, the citizens of Virginia have been invited by the League to Enforce Peace (American branch), an organization consecrated to "Making the world safe by the defeat of German militarists and keeping the world safe by a league of free nations," to form a Virginia division of the league; and

Whereas, A call has been issued for a convention to be held in the city of Richmond for the purpose of forming a Virginia branch of the League to Enforce Peace (American branch) on Saturday, November 30, 1918; now

Therefore, I, Westmoreland Davis, Governor of Virginia, do hereby extend an invitation to all the citizens of the several counties and cities of Virginia to attend and take part in the deliberations of this convention which is to be held in the city of Richmond on Saturday, November 30, 1918, and by their presence to evince the interest of Virginia in the great effort which is being made to secure the world the blessings of an honorable, just and permanent peace.

Given under my hand, and under the Lesser Seal of the Commonwealth, at Richmond, this nineteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and in the one hundred and forty-third year of the Commonwealth.

WESTMORELAND DAVIS,

By the Governor:

Whereas, The building of new highways, their improvement and their maintenance are essential to the economic and social development of the Commonwealth; now

Therefore, I, Westmoreland Davis, Governor of Virginia, urge all interested citizens of the State who can to attend this convention and take part in its deliberations, and request that the several counties and cities of the Commonwealth make the necessary provisions to be officially represented.

Given under my hand, and under the Lesser Seal of the Commonwealth, at Richmond, this twenty-sixth day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and in the one hundred and forty-third year of the Commonwealth.

Victory Liberty Loan and War Savings Stamps.

Whereas, Victory for democracy has been won by the allied nations through the noble and unselfish sacrifices of our gallant sons who gave their lives on the battlefields of France that the world should be made safe from aggression of German militarism and political autocracy; and

Whereas, This war for the preservation of American institutions and the liberty of the individual citizen has been won, but has not yet been paid for; and

Whereas, The Government of the United States has incurred heavy obligations in the conduct of the war, and great expenditures will be necessary to meet post-war conditions; now

Therefore, I, Westmoreland Davis, Governor of Virginia, do earnestly urge the people of Virginia to subscribe to and in every way within their power to aid the Victory Liberty Loan, and that they invest in War Savings Stamps to the full extent of their individual means so that the Government of the United States may be able to meet its obligations.

Given under my hand and under the Lesser Seal of the Commonwealth this tenth day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, and in the one hundred and forty-third year of the Commonwealth.

WESTMORELAND DAVIS,

Governor.

By the Governor:

B. O. JAMES,

Arbor Day.

Whereas, the Governor shall annually, in the spring, as required by law, designate by official proclamation a day to be known as Arbor Day, to be observed throughout Virginia as a day of planting of trees, shrubs and vines about the homes and along the highways, and about public grounds thus contributing to the wealth, comfort and attractions of the Commonwealth; now,

Therefore, I, Westmoreland Davis, Governor of Virginia, do designate Thursday, April 3, 1919, as Arbor Day and request the people of Virginia on this day to plant trees, shrubs, vines and flowers about their homes, around all school buildings, along the public highways, in the public parks and cemeteries, and wherever the beauty of flowers and the cultivation of growing things will contribute to the happiness and to the economic and social well-being of our people.

I ask that this public service be accepted and carried out in a spirit of thanksgiving to Almighty God for the victory of the allied nations that has saved the world from the oppression and the horrors of German autocracy and militarism. No more fitting tribute can be paid by a grateful people to the memory of their fallen heroes, who gave up their lives in defense of humanity, of liberty and of right, than by planting and cultivating memorial trees and shrubbery.

Given under my hand and under the Lesser Seal of the Commonwealth this twenty-fifth day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, and in the one hundred and forty-third year of the Commonwealth.

Whereas, Application in writing, under the signatures of a number greater than two-thirds of the members of both houses of the General Assembly of Virginia, has been made to the Governor, as of June 17, 1919, in accordance with the provisions of section 73 of the Constitution of Virginia, to convene the General Assembly in special session as soon as practicable for the purpose of making proper provision for securing for the Commonwealth of Virginia its allotment of the federal-aid road funds, which have been appropriated by the Congress of the United States, under the acts approved July 11, 1916, and February 28, 1919, respectively; now,

Therefore, I, Westmoreland Davis, Governor of Virginia, in pursuance of the Constitution and laws of the Commonwealth of Virginia, do hereby summon the members of the Senate and of the House of Delegates, constituting the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Virginia, to convene in extra session at their respective chambers in the Capitol, at Richmond, at twelve o'clock noon on Wednesday, the thirteenth day of August, 1919.

Given under my hand, and under the Lesser Seal of the Commonwealth, at Richmond, this seventeenth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, and in the one hundred and forty-third year of the Commonwealth.

WESTMORELAND DAVIS,
Governor.

By the Governor:
B. O. JAMES,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Good Roads Day a Public Holiday.

Whereas, The people of the United States of America will celebrate the one hundred and forty-third anniversary of our national independence on the fourth day of July, 1919, designated by law as a public holiday in the Commonwealth of Virginia; and

Whereas, Any day, under authority of an act of the General Assembly of Virginia, approved February 20, 1918, which is designated by the Governor as desirable to be observed as a holiday because of conditions incident to a state of war shall be considered as a public holiday; and

Whereas, It is appropriate that on this one hundred and forty-third anniversary of our national independence an opportunity should be given the people of Virginia to celebrate, in a constructive way, the delivery of the world from the menace of German oppression, and to voice our thanks to Almighty God for the great victory he has given our arms; and

Whereas, The building of good roads will make possible the proper economic and social development of the Commonwealth and contribute to the individual happiness and well-being of our people; now

Therefore, I, Westmoreland Davis, Governor of Virginia, do designate Saturday, July 5, 1919, as well as the fourth day of July, a public holiday to be observed as such throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia and to be known as "Good Roads Day"; and I earnestly request the people of Virginia to assemble in their respective neighborhoods on that day to discuss the question of good roads, and the best ways and means of securing them, so that their views may be made known to their representatives in the General Assembly, which is to convene in extraordinary session on Wednesday, August 13, 1919.

I ask that the people bring with them to these meetings on this day their teams, tools and materials with which to work the roads in their respective neighborhoods, and that all the citizens of Virginia devote this day—their holiday, and their personal labor, facilities, materials and means to the constructive service of good roads for the economic and social advancement of our Commonwealth.

Given under my hand and under the Lesser Seal of the Commonwealth this eighteenth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, and in the one hundred and forty-third year of the Commonwealth.

WESTMORELAND DAVIS,

By the Governor:

Governor.

B. O. JAMES,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Fire Prevention Day, Thursday, October 9, 1919.

Whereas, Virginia annually suffers heavy property losses and loss of life due to preventable fires; and

Whereas, It is no less a public duty now in the hour of our national readjustment to conserve the material resources of the Commonwealth and protect the lives of our citizens than during the war; now

Therefore, I, Westmoreland Davis, Governor of Virginia, do hereby designate Thursday, October 9, 1919, as Fire Prevention Day in the Commonwealth of Virginia, and I urge all public officials, State and local, and all citizens of the State on this day to direct their united as well as their individual and personal attention to providing against destruction of life and property by fire.

To this end I request that there be a general State-wide clean-up of waste and rubbish in all public and private places that fire risks may be reduced and the public health promoted; that all heating apparatus, chimneys, electric wiring and ventilating systems be thoroughly inspected and placed in safe repair; that general educational exercises be held from time to time beginning on Fire Prevention Day in all the counties, cities and towns, especially in the public schools, to impress upon the people the importance of this great work of conservation.

Given under my hand and under the Lesser Seal of the Commonwealth this third day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, and in the one hundred and forty-fourth year of the Commonwealth.

WESTMORELAND DAVIS,

Governor.

By the Governor:

B. O. JAMES,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.
